EFFORTS FRUITLESS

Both Sides Adamant In Refusal to Back Down
On Issue.

London, April 9.—The blackest day in England's history since Haig issued his famous "back-to-the-wall" message to the half-trapped British army in Flanders, opened with both sides in the great industrial crisis absolutely adamant.

Feverish all night efforts to get the miners and the government together again were completely fruitless but are continuing. At this cabling there seems no chance of peace for only a back down by one side or the other can avert the general strike of the triple alliance threatened for Tuesday.

Determined to save the mines from utter ruin the government sent naval engineers, adequately protected by troops into the Rhondda valley this morning with orders to start pumping immediately. This is the first use of military forces in the mines strike. Clashes between miners and soldiers are looked for. Other troops are expected to be sent to the Lanarkshire collieries where the flooding has already had disastrous results.

The royal family has moved from Windsor Castle to Buckingham Palace. Windsor lies some 21 miles from London proper on the right bank of the Thames. Buckingham palace is in the heart of the capital. It is a fortress as well as a palace.

Prepares Manifesto
Premier Lloyd George is preparing a manifesto to the people of the United Kingdom which in its gravity and appeal is expected to be no less momentous in British history than was Haig's message to the troops.

The premier is holding up the issuance of this appeal in the hope, it is said, that the executive committee of the triple alliance will return to No. 10 Downing Street some time before the day is over for a conciliatory conference.

How little chance there is for conciliation however, was indicated by this statement of a miners' delegate to the International News Service.

"It is vanity on the part of Lloyd George to think we will surrender our main weapon."

The "weapon" is the miner's refusal to safeguard the mines against flooding.

Automatic destruction of the kingdom's richest coal fields goes on unabated, accompanied by ever increasing violence.

A full cabinet meeting was summoned by the premier shortly after noon.

Meanwhile London and the rest of the kingdom is assuming a more and more warlike aspect. Already the nation is more thoroughly "in armor" on land, at sea, and in the air, than it was for many weeks after the outbreak of the world war.

All the improvements that the great conflict brought into being are pressed into service. The king's call for reserves for active service is receiving hearty response. Scotland Yard, headquarters for recruiting was thronged at an early hour by men of all classes and ages ready to enlist for 90 days at a common soldier's pay.

Thousands Volunteer
Similar prompt response is reported from the provinces. At the same time thousands are volunteering to enroll in the citizens' "emergency force" called for by monarch in the proclamation which Lloyd George read amid cheers in the house of commons yesterday. From Rosyth, "home" of the bulk of Britain's fleet, comes word of significant activity. All warships there from the giant dreadnaughts down to the mosquito craft, are puffing noisily out of their smokestacks, signifying their readiness to dash off on any assignment.

As the day wore on more and more reservists lined the square in front of the war office and the embankment, in answer to the king's call for army and navy reserves.

All London presented the picture of a populace eagerly resolved to avert a national calamity but the actual pressing into service of the reserves and emergency forces was looked forward to with grave forebodings because of the spirit of bitter defiance on the part of the triple alliance whose nearly 3,000,000 members showed every determination to answer force with force.

American Reply To British Note on Mandate Delayed

Theory Expressed That Nations Have Arrived at Satisfactory Understanding Without Necessity Of Formal Announcement.

Washington, April 9.—The American note in reply to the communication of February 28 from Great Britain on the subject of the Mesopotamian mandate has not yet been dispatched, it was said at the state department today. Considerable speculation has been aroused by this information as it is known that a draft of the American reply has been on Secretary Hughes' desk for several days. In explanation of the delay in transmitting the document it was stated that developments have intervened which may make it inadvisable to forward the note at all, as there is thought to be a possibility of a satisfactory understanding being arrived at without the necessity of a formal announcement of the American position.

There has been no change in the attitude of this government on the question of monopoly of the oil resources of Mesopotamia and Palestine, however, and should the conversations understood now to be in progress fail to produce the results hoped for the note will be dispatched. In the event that action be taken, the tone of the communication will be no less firm than that which characterized this government's statement of its position with regard to the island of Yap.

Lord Curzon's reply to Secretary Colby's note of August 9, dealt particularly with what the British minister characterized as a misconception of the scope of the San Remo agreement for co-operation between France and Great Britain in the exploitation of the petroleum resources of various territories where the two powers had joint interests. Lord Curzon stated that the agreement in so far as it related to Mesopotamia had to do only with potential oil lands conceded to the Turkish Petroleum Company, a British corporation, prior to the outbreak of the world war, and he argued that the United States could not justly insist upon equal rights to exploit territory conceded to a British concern before a mandate had been authorized for Mesopotamia. The contention of the British foreign minister thus brings squarely to an issue the question of the validity of the concession alleged to have been acquired from the former Turkish government.

The United States, it is understood, will insist upon the fundamental contention which it has advanced with regard to all mandated territory, that mandates resulted from a war in which America contributed materially to the victory and that this government must have a voice in the disposition of mandated territory.

MAN WHO WROTE "HOW TO LIVE 100 YEARS" NOW 99

Dr. James N. Peebles.

Twenty years ago Dr. James N. Peebles, then a resident of Hampton, N. J., published a book entitled "How to Live One Hundred Years and Grow Old Gracefully." Several days ago, Dr. Peebles now living in Los Angeles, Cal., celebrated his ninety-ninth birthday. Dr. Peebles is the oldest man listed in "Who's Who."

OFFICIALS BAFFLED OVER DEATH OF GIRL

Celina, O., April 9.—City and county officials admitted themselves baffled today in their attempts to solve the murder of Miss Theresa Petro, pretty 16 year old daughter of Oliver Petro, whose body was found in a marsh along the St. Marys river yesterday.

Miss Petro had been missing from her home since early in January, but her death, in the opinion of physicians had occurred but a few days ago. A nation wide search has been in progress since her disappearance.

She is said to have been last seen by friends when she accompanied a young man friend to Rockford. There the man declares she left him in front of the Presbyterian church.

WILL NOT ARBITRATE OPEN SHOP ISSUE

Cleveland, April 9.—"No arbitration on the open shop principle; willing to go the limit in meeting the demand for a wage reduction."

This is the official attitude of the carmen's union, of which the 3,400 motormen and conductors employed on the Cleveland street railway as voiced at two largely attended mass meetings last night.

Full power to negotiate along these lines was placed in the hands of the union's officials. It was indicated that the men might be willing to accept a cut as much as 15 cents an hour from the present rates of 70 to 75 cents per hour.

OPPOSES REDUCTION OF WAGES FOR R. R. EMPLOYEES IN U. S.

Need Greatly Exaggerated Declares Union Head.

Washington, April 9.—Opposition to any wage reductions for railroad employees was voiced to the president today by L. E. Sheppard, head of the Brotherhood of Railway Conductors.

The need for reduction of wages has been greatly exaggerated by the railroads, Sheppard declared. Sheppard said he had offered no definite plan of solution for the railroad tangle, but had expressed the opinion that labor should have a voice in the management of the roads, under some such plan as the Plumb plan.

The railroads are entitled to a fair profit, Sheppard said, but he declared that the profit above 6 percent should be applied to increased pay for labor and reduced freight rates.

Serphard and other labor leaders will meet here on Monday with Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, to discuss a legislative program to be submitted to congress by labor.

Mr. McGrath is shown demonstrating his contrivance, with Police Sergeant Bernard Maloney. The revolver is concealed under the right arm pit, in a holster, specially constructed and running through the right sleeve in a connecting wire, ending in a contrivance like a push button which fits in the hand. The apparatus connecting the trigger of the revolver and button is similar to the tube by which the shutter of a camera is snapped.

Find Lost Naval Balloon No Trace of Missing Men

Craft Lost 19 Days Ago Found Floating Twenty Miles From St. Andrews, Florida, By Fishing Vessel Early Saturday.

Pensacola, Fla., April 9.—Floating on the gulf of Mexico about 20 miles from St. Andrews, the free naval balloon, lost 19 days ago, was found this morning by the motor boat Electra, a Bay county fishing vessel commanded by Captain Ficker.

The balloon had no note attached to it, and the basket had not been cut away.

The basket swung with the wash of the sea. There was no trace of any of the five men who left the local air station March 22, for an all night flight. That the men are lost was the opinion officially expressed at the naval station today.

NEW JERSEY GETS DEMPSEY-CARPENTIER FIGHT ON JULY 2 RICKARD ANNOUNCES

New York, April 9.—New Jersey gets the big fight. Tex Rickard, peer of boxing promoters, this afternoon announced that the Jack Dempsey-Georges Carpentier fight will be staged in one of the three following New Jersey cities: Newark, Atlantic City or Jersey City.

Rickard announced that he will not announce the exact site for a few days because of important details to be gone over with the boxing authorities in the state across the Hudson.

Rickard stated that he will build a special arena for the fight which will comfortably seat 50,000 persons.

The fight, as previously announced, will be staged on July 2—the Saturday before the Fourth of July.

Rickard estimated that the arena which he will build will cost about $100,000. He said he plans to hold several other championship bouts in the arena.

The Dempsey-Carpentier fight will be over the 12 round route in order to conform to the boxing laws of New Jersey. The contracts signed by the two managers of the boxers permits of a bout of 15 rounds.

The ticket sale will open on May 1, at Madison Square Garden, New York, and in the city where the fight will take place. Prices will range from $5 to $50. This scale is cheaper than that charged at the Jeffries-Johnson fight at Reno, where $10 to $50 obtained.

GEORGIA PLANTER GETS LIFE SENTENCE WHEN JURY RETURNS VERDICT

THREE POINTS OF EINSTEIN THEORY HAZY

Professor Albert Einstein Discusses His Great Idea.

STUMBLING BLOCKS

Scientific Writer Enumerates Points Not Entirely Clear.

BY GARRET P. SERVISS
(America's Foremost Writer on Scientific Subjects).

New York, April 9.—Thanks to the presence in this country of Professor Albert Einstein, I have just had the opportunity in the course of a social conversation with him to obtain somewhat clearer ideas concerning the most puzzling points in the application of his great theory of relativity to the fundamental laws of modern science.

There are three chief points of the Einstein theory which stand out conspicuously and to the average reader seems to be rather stumbling blocks than aids to comprehension, and these I tried to have cleared up. They are:

First, that absolute motion has no existence so far as we are concerned, but that all motions of every kind that we see or of which we perceive the effects, are only relative to one another and can be measured in a relative sense. In other words, we have no fixed background to which all motions can alike be referred. Until very lately it was thought that by refined observation it should be possible to detect the effect of the earth's motion through the ether of space. The failure of the most elaborate attempts to detect such motion was the beginning of Einstein's discovery of the principle of the relativity of motion. This, put in a sentence means that no uniform motion relative to the ether can be detected.

We are surrounded every day by proofs of relatively that we ordinarily do not notice. When a railway train standing beside our own starts to move sometimes we can scarcely persuade ourselves that it is not our own that is in motion. This is a perfect example of what is meant by relativity of motion. It becomes more complicated but not less clear when we apply it to the motion of the earth around the sun, combined with all its planets through space and the probable motion of the entire system of the stars, as we see them in complicated directions.

Second, the next stumbling block is the statement that a ray of light coming from a distant star and passing close to the sun on its way to the earth is bent or deviated from its course just as if the light consisted of something having weight.

Third, another puzzling point is the conception growing out of the Einstein theories that space does not extend uniformly in every direction independently of the bodies such as planets, suns and stars that it contains, but that space itself has what one might call a kind of shape. More specifically that it possesses curvature, and that what seems to us a straight line may, if followed far enough turn out, or perhaps necessarily turn out to be a curve.

Still another thing in the Einstein theory which is difficult for the general reader to grasp is the idea that what we call time, is in a sense a fourth dimension of space, and that space and time are of being, as has generally been assumed by scientific men, heretofore entirely separate and independent things are essentially connected.

RAIL-LIGHT BREAKS OFF NEGOTIATIONS

Columbus, O., April 9.—Refusing to sign a contract with the union and insisting upon dealing with employees as individuals, officials of the Columbus Rail-Light Company apparently have broken off negotiations with union street car employees relative to a demand for higher wages.

John S. Williams Found Guilty of Murder of Farm Hand

RECOMMEND MERCY

Motion For New Trial Started—Defendant Remains Calm.

Covington, Va., April 9.—John S. Williams, Newton and Jasper county planter today was found guilty of the murder of Lindsey Peterson, one of the eleven farm hands slain on his plantation. The jury recommended mercy.

The jury had been out 18 hours when it was announced a verdict had been reached.

"The jury has found you guilty, Mr. Williams," said Judge Hutcherson, as the planter stood to hear the sentence, "and the verdict of the jury is the sentence of the court. I sentence you to life imprisonment."

There was a tense silence as the verdict was read and as the judge pronounced sentence. Williams stood erect betraying no emotion if he felt any. His wife however, after hearing the sentence, clutched her husband around the neck, laid her head on his shoulder and burst into violent weeping. For fifteen minutes after the sentence was pronounced she wept and her sobs gradually increased until she was practically hysterical. Her daughters, three of them—joined with their mother in sorrowful weeping.

Colonel Greene F. Johnson, moved at once for a new trial.

"The motion for a new trial has been filed. I have just begun to fight," was the response of Col. Johnson to inquiries if there was anything he had to say.

"The verdict is contrary to evidence, contrary to law and without evidence to support it," he said.

Solicitor General Brand shook his head sadly when asked if he had anything to say.

"I never gloat over the misfortune of other folks," he said.

Williams shook his head when approached by reporters.

Colonel William H. Howard, special prosecutor who assisted in the case, was not present. He left for his home in Augusta after his collapse at the close of his argument before the jury yesterday.

Williams was taken immediately back to the Newton county jail.

MURDER CONFESSION BID TO GET INTO MOVIES POLICE SAY

Harris Sticks To His Original Story Of Killing.

Buffalo, April 9.—Arrangements were being made today to take to New York Roy Harris, the young man who claims that he, with a companion named William Duncan was hired to kill Joseph B. Elwell, New York sportsman, last June.

"If the police persist in thinking I am telling a lot of lies, let them keep at it," Harris said this morning. "It will mean my freedom so why should I worry?"

Detective Sergeant Oswald of New York has not yet been convinced that Harris actually had a hand in the killing of Elwell.

"My notion is that this fellow wants to get into the movies," said Oswald when pressed for an explanation as to why Harris should make a false confession of murder.

As a reply to Oswald's statement, Harris again declared he was telling the truth, adding that he wished the contrary were true.

Harris is getting nervous. He now paces up and down in his cell and seems to be anxious to be taken to New York. "If the police will let me see the women in the Elwell case, I can easily identify the one who called herself Mrs. Fairchild. It will be much more positive than trying to identify her by a picture."

One photograph shown to Harris yesterday was picked by him as being that of the woman known as "Mrs. Fairchild." But officials here were advised that when this woman was questioned by the police of New York she proved herself to be innocent.

Where Do we Go From Here?

With our spring vacation over and only ten weeks between us and June 10th we are beginning to realize that this year's school days are indeed numbered. With this thought arises the familiar question "Where do we go from here?" which fills the mind of each and every Senior. Many of us seem to have the idea that the day on which we receive our longed for diplomas will be the end of our search for knowledge, instead, it is as its name implies the commencement of higher education.

As the doors of the world open to each graduating class the temptation becomes greater and greater to enter into business at once and earn money. At present, in these days of high wages the temptation is only great and seems at first glance to entirely overbalance the college course which will cost both time and money as well as mental labor. But when we see that the gain is greater by far than the loss.

At the end of four years the person who chose to enter into work of some sort has only a slight knowledge of the work that he has performed and, perhaps, a few dollars laid aside. The one who chose the college course has a college diploma to add to that of his high school which represents the knowledge stored away in his trained mind and that is what counts in this world, for the trained mind is the great need of all times and lands.

To be of service to our country and our selves we must expect every effort to train all our faculties and develop our talents to the best advantage. Let it be the aim of the class of '21 to have a larger percent and our selves we must exert every effort to learn than any preceding class, Slim's Notebook.

CELEBRATE ARBOR DAY BY PLANTING TREES IN YARD

Friday, April 8, which was set aside as Arbor Day in Ohio, was fittingly observed by the students of Central High when they planted two trees, which were the gift of Judge Marcus Shoup, in the school yard.

The Juniors and Seniors assembled in the front yard where a very beautiful ceremony took place. Governor Davis' proclamation concerning Arbor Day was read by Mr. Pendry after which John Moore, Ersel Hutchison, and Cecil Crawford planted the young trees.

A most beautiful and appropriate dedication speech was given by Elizabeth Dodds, in which she quoted many poems about nature.

Allen Mendenhall spoke on "Arbor Day Thoughts" telling how "Johnny Appleseed" is responsible for so many of our apple trees.

During the program three songs led by Miss Haines were sung. They were "Arbor Day March," "Planting song," and "America."

JUNIOR HIGH NEWS

In assembly we decided to plant a tree for Miss Harper. She objected but we were so determined that it was in vain. Lewis Hite is to dig the hole. We are going to plant it Arbor Day. We have one hour in the Auditorium tomorrow. Each room is going to give part of the program.

Grade cards came out Wednesday. Many went down but many came up in their grades. The majority were satisfied. Since this is Perfect Week we are all putting forth more energy and we are striving for E in effort and not below G in any study.

The first and second team made up a ball team which is playing a scrub team. We play an inning each noon. We played the first yesterday. The score ending 8 to 2 in favor of the scrub team. We had no batting and only went to bases on balls or being hit by one. The tide may change and the scrub get beaten.

Spring is here and I think it has made some people lazy. I hope this spring fever will not effect everyone. It is just the time we want to get up and stretch. Playing ball, tennis, and going in wading is in our minds. Day-dreaming is quite popular, but we are going to waken up and hustle.

THE RAINBOW

When sunbeams pierce the darkened clouds
 And pour through the downpour of rain,
 I see within the sullen-sky
 The promised bow again.

Within its radiance, O so fair,
 A thousand bright units shine,
 No artist's brush would e'er half paint,
 Or those delicate shades combine.

So when in life the dark days come
 Attended by sorrow and pain
 Somewhere the light through a rifted cloud,
 Brings the bow of hope again.

CONVENTION MAY BE HELD THIS YEAR IN GREENVILLE, O.

That the annual convention of surviving members of the 110th, Ohio Volunteer Infantry, a Civil War Regiment, may be held in Greenville, instead of Xenia, which was decided upon at last year's encampment, is the statement of the Piqua Daily Call, following the visit to that city of Charles Thompson, of Xenia, veteran of that Regiment.

Mr. Thompson was made Regiment President of the organization at the annual reunion in Piqua last summer, and it was at that meeting that it was decided to hold the reunion this year in Xenia. On that occasion 68 veterans of the Regiment were in attendance and nine members of Mr. Thompson's Company were present. He says the purpose of effecting the change of the place of the reunion from Xenia to Greenville, is because the State Encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic will be held in the latter city this year.

Mr. Thompson, although a resident of Xenia for many years, also calls Piqua his home in some respects, for it was to that city that he came with his parents from New York, when he was but six years of age. He was one of the first to enlist during the Civil War, leaving Piqua with a Piqua formed company six days after Fort Sumpter was fired upon. He is now 82 years of age.

Newspapers First

The person who buys a newspaper every day—and at least one member of every reading family does—spends more money in a year on that item than he does on any other regularly printed publication.

He spends more on his newspaper because it is worth more to him. If it cost him ten times as much, he would still buy it—or if it were priced beyond his means he would arrange to borrow it from his neighbor.

He would have it because without it he would be at a disadvantage among his neighbors and competitors.

He would not know what was going on. He would be left standing still while "the world and his wife" kept moving on.

When a medium of information is so close to the people, when it is so vital to them, is it any wonder that the columns of the newspaper are such a potent place to advertise?

Is it any wonder that newspaper advertising brings results in good season or bad?

WILL REMOVE AIR FROM CITY WATER; USE OLD SUPPLY

Xenians will have to use water from the old supply over Sunday, it is announced.

The Cincinnati avenue station will be started Sunday to supply water patrons, while slight repairs are being made on the new plant.

This action was taken following a visit of Phillip Burgess, Columbus engineer who designed the water plant, who investigated the fact that the new water often is full of air. Mr. Burgess diagnosed the difficulty, the same as the local authorities, laying the blame on the fact that when the water syphons from one tank to the other, there is so much suction that air is drawn into the water and forced through the mains with the water that comes to this city.

While the air does not affect the taste nor the quality of the water, it gives the same appearance when first drawn before it can pass off, as the old water did when full of chlorine. While the plant is closed down Sunday, a table will be built over the tank outlet valve, to break the suction that pulls the air into the water.

Because of the fact that the Cincinnati Avenue station can not pump a great amount of water, the work is being done on Sunday when less water is naturally consumed, and the new plant will be started in operation again Monday.

LOW PERCENTAGE OF CHURCH MEMBERS SHOWN IN REPORT

Printed reports of the rural church survey in Greene County are being distributed to church workers on the county by the Ohio Federation of Churches, according to word from Rev. B. F. Lamb, secretary of the Federation, at Columbus.

These reports place the survey findings before the church of the county in advance of the county conference, to be held April 15 at the First Methodist Church in Xenia. The survey and the rural church problems it reveals will be the basis of discussion at the conference. Efforts will be made to plan co-operative action against points of weakness revealed by the survey.

Rev. C. W. Brugh of Tiffin, chairman of the state evangelistic committee will be present at the conference, as representative of the Ohio Federation of Churches and to assist local leaders in conducting it. Rev. G. C. Foltz, of Bowersville is directing local arrangements.

The chief problems presented by the survey, according to church leaders, are found in the low percentage of church membership, which is characteristic not only of this county but of most others as well; the low rate of increase in membership, and the lack of resident pastors, and consequently of adequate religious leadership, in certain localities.

More equitable distribution of ministers throughout the county and co-operative action to increase the influence of the church as a real force in community life are said to be needed.

WHEN IS A COP NOT A POLICEMAN?

Columbus, O., April 9.—Patrolman John M. Kennedy, off duty and attired in civilian clothes, spied a taxicab parked too close to a fire plug at High and Broad Streets.

Kennedy, who recently joined the police force, took the driver to task.

The driver bawled him out and Kennedy told him he was under arrest.

"Where's your badge," the driver asked.

Kennedy didn't have it on. The driver shoved Kennedy into the cab and took him to the police station where the Lieutenant in charge was asked to slate Kennedy for impersonating an officer.

Recognizing Kennedy, the lieutenant advised the driver to be more courteous hereafter, told Kennedy to always wear his badge and then resumed his routine duties.

PRUGH AFTER JOB AS STATE INSPECTOR OF LOAN COMPANIES

Xenia friends of John W. Prugh, local real estate man, who has long been associated with the Home Building and Savings Company here are supporting his candidacy for the position of Chief Inspector of Buildings and Loans in the State.

The position is filled by political appointment by the Governor, and it is expected that a new Chief Inspector will be appointed next week or the week after, to take the place of the Democratic incumbent. It is believed that Mr. Prugh who has always supported the Republican ticket here, will stand high in the mind of the Governor when he makes this appointment.

The position, it is understood, would cause the local man to spend a great deal of his time in Columbus should he receive the appointment. The position of Chief Inspector is an office position, and he would have in his charge the deputies who inspect the Buildings and Loans over the State. Although his office would be located in Columbus, and he would have to spend most of his time there, Mr. Prugh said Saturday that he would not move his family to that city if he should receive the appointment.

Mr. Prugh's long association with the Home Building and Savings Company, has fitted him with a knowledge of similar concerns that qualifies him for the position as Chief Inspector in this department.

FIRE LOSS ESTIMATED AT CLOSE TO $4,000 IN FRIDAY'S BLAZE

That his loss from fire which occurred at his home on West Second street Friday noon, may reach more than $4,000, is the statement of William Kelbie, following a close inspection of the damage.

A careful examination showed that the cost of repairing will be much more than at first anticipated, the third floor being practically in ruins. New wood work, plastering and papering will have to be done, and contractors have estimated the cost of the work on the building at more than $2,500 which was the amount of insurance carried. As the closet in which the fire started, contained most of the winter clothes of the family, the damage to the contents will run over $500. Insurance was carried on the clothes also. Insurance adjusters are now on their way here to inspect the damage.

RIDDLE LEAVES FRIDAY FOR MIDDLETOWN

City Manager and Mrs. Kenyon Riddle and family moved Friday to their new home in Middletown, where Mr. Riddle will soon assume the management.

Mr. Riddle will return the first of next week however, to be in this city until after the regular commission meeting to be held next Thursday. In the meantime, although no acting City Manager has been named by the Commission, City Auditor T. H. Zell will probably handle most of the business of the Manager, as he is the chief executive in charge now at the City Building. He has received instructions to carry on the work in connection with his other duties during the time when the city is without a Manager.

Rumors have gained credence here that Captain Charles Bird of Springfield, has been appointed City Manager, but such action has not yet been taken, as the Commission has not met formally to consider applicants since the last regular meeting. Many expect the Commission to act on the question of filling the vacancy at the regular meeting next Thursday.

"Where did you get it?" the police asked.

"Off'n one o' them Wilson avenue swells—they never have nothing. Just a big front."

"That's the dope," chorused his pals. "Stick 'em up and all yuget is a laundry check and a dollar watch."

TELEPHONE LINES IMPAIRED BY STORM

Telephone companies were the chief victims of a heavy rain and hail storm that broke over Greene county shortly after six o'clock Friday evening.

The storm seemed to be more severe north of Xenia, and the Ohio Bell Telephone Company was the chief sufferer in this direction as a result of the storm. The company had 16 poles down between this city and Old Town, and linemen were working until midnight Friday night in an attempt to repair the impaired service. Saturday the lines had not been fully restored. Damage in other parts of the county was slight. The Springfield and Xenia Telephone Company was fortunate in that only slight damage resulted to its lines in the county. Even north of Xenia, the lines were not seriously damaged. Although considerable hail fell, green house men, say the hail was not heavy enough to do damage to their glass, and they do not report any loss from this source.

There are no crops now sufficiently progressed to be damaged by the storm fortunately, although people with small gardens complained of cabbage plants recently set out, being ruined.

DAYLIGHT SAVING.

Coincident with the advent of spring, and its promise of outdoors, comes the agitation for advancing the clocks one hour, in order to permit the utilization of more daylight, at a time in the day, when it is of the most use to city dwellers. Some Ohio cities are already on the advanced time, others are about to take the step, and with this in mind comes the natural question, what will Xenia do this year?

All arguments to support the contention that daylight saving is desirable, are superfluous. The physical, mental and economic benefits derived from this step were amply proved during the war, when the government took the matter in hand as a national necessity. Then it was demonstrated that tacking an extra hour of daylight at the end of the day, when the inside worker could get the benefit of the outdoors, and the country as a whole could utilize natural light instead of artificial, was a step in the right direction.

So far as Xenia is concerned, there appears to be no reason why the city should not adopt daylight saving, especially since many of the surrounding communities are, or will be, on that basis. That the majority of the people want it was decided last spring when a straw vote conducted by this paper, revealed the fact that the measure was greatly in favor here. At that time the matter never came to a vote of the city commission. It is hoped that it will this year.

We say, unqualifiedly, and stand ready to prove our assertion, that the passage of daylight saving in Xenia would prove to be a popular move on the part of the commission. So far as the agricultural interests are concerned, one prosperous farmer of Greene County stated recently, that he got along just as well under daylight saving as he did without it. In fact, so far as the dairy interests are concerned, he pointed out, that the difference in time of Dayton proved a serious handicap to him, and resulted in taking his milk to other markets.

This matter is not the idle wish of a few Xenia people. It is a serious question that deserves serious thought. There can be no lasting gain unless both parties to an agreement are benefited. No one class ought to be favored at the expense of another, and in view of this fact the subject of daylight saving deserves the same interest and attention by Xenia's governing body, as does any other worthy need.

Let's have a careful consideration of this subject and pass an ordinance for daylight saving in Xenia.

VIVIANI'S MISSION.

Rene Viviani is no stranger in America. His present visit is reminiscent of the one he made shortly after the United States entered the world war. He was received then with acclaim, as representative of a country which was historically America's best friend and which had won greater admiration than ever for its courageous stand against the mightiest military power in the world. Through the co-operation which he asked for and obtained then, the war was won.

It is significant that the welcome accorded to Viviani now is no less warm than it was when the two nations faced the war together. He comes now to obtain a new understanding, by which the powers which defeated Germany shall make their victory secure. Governmental co-operation is to be expected, not in the full measure that was necessary during the war crisis, but in such measure as the present crisis demands and as America can afford.

There must be co-operation with the allies to make sure the peace won in 1917. There must be co-operation with the allies to liquidate the war and reconstruct business and create better international understanding and discourage, if not prevent future wars.

This is a subject on which the American public is rapidly getting its bearings. There is a desire, as everybody knows, to avoid dangerous entanglements with old world affairs. There is also a recognition of the fact that all the modern world hangs together, linked by a thousand chains, and that not even business progress is possible until the war mess is cleaned up and the German settlement is assured and the nations have found some mutually satisfactory way of working together peacefully.

Out of Mr. Viviani's visit, and subsequent visits from statesmen of the other allied powers, may come a new world arrangement, in which the United States will play a fitting part. The allies seem ready to take this country almost on its own terms, for they find that they cannot get along without us. Neither can we, with all our power, get along without them. The new administration has in its hands a great opportunity for lasting service to its country and to the world.

BERGDOLL CASE UP TO CANADA.

Canada can extradite Grover Bergdoll but Great Britain cannot, in the opinion of legal experts of the Government, who have been working on the request of the United States that England get the slacker from Germany and turn him over to the American authorities. The offense with which he is charged in Canada is extraditable, but his infraction of British law while in London is not extraditable in the pre-war treaty between England and Germany. This decision will be forwarded to the Ottawa Government with a suggestion from London Colonial Office that Canada carefully prepare its evidence preliminary to laying the matter before the German Government through the Colonial Office.

But if extradition proceedings are successful, it does not follow that the States will get Bergdoll soon. As pointed out in these dispatches recently, England and the Dominions are jealous of the rights a British passport carries, and doubtless the Ottawa Government will prosecute the case to the limit if Bergdoll is turned over to it. When the Canadian law has been satisfied then it would be up to the United States and Canada to decide whether he should return to a United States prison.

THE NEW PEACE DOVE

1901--Twenty Years Ago--1921

The shirt waist for men has at last struck Xenia. Mr. George Bocklett of the store of Jobe Brothers and Company has made his appearance in one of the latest in cut and design and is proud of it. If you want any pointers just take the elevator and ask Mr. Bocklett.

Rev. V. F. Brown presiding elder of the Hillsboro district preached an excellent sermon last night at the First Methodist Church.

The consolation of the D. &

X. and the Rapid Transit lines having been consummated, some changes are now being contemplated in the operation of the two roads. The first matter that will be accomplished, in this line, is that of operating both roads from one power station and thus reduce the expenses which result from keeping both plants going.

A Cincinnati firm is engaged in putting up fire escapes on the east side of the city building, contracts for this work being let by the city council several weeks ago.

SAMUEL KING

April 9, 1928.

One of the earliest aviators was Samuel King, who was born near Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, less than a century ago and who a little more than 50 years ago was ridiculed for his attempts to fly through the air. We have progressed so far and so fast in matters of aviation that stories even ten years old sound rather quaint and ridiculous.

Samuel King was one of the early aeronauts. As a child he read the stories of those who had attempted to fly and who had made flying machines, even as far back as the painter Leonardo de Vinci, who had made a model of an aeroplane. King also wanted to conquer the air. As a child, however, he had to climb high hills and trees and satisfy himself with that. When he was a young man he built balloons. One fell because he didn't have enough gas. An accident happened to another and nearly killed him.

He was called a fool at first, but he learned how to build balloons, his flights became matters of admiration. He wanted to go the unheard of distance from Buffalo to New Jersey by air. One time the wind carried him westward instead of over the lake. At another time it blew him to the Alleghenies, where he and his party were thrown into a tree and had to roost all night. At length he succeeded in making a continuous flight to New Jersey.

Wherever he flew his mysterious appearance floating through the sky frightened all the animals in the country. Horses broke loose, cows and chickens fled for protection when they saw him appear.

LYNCH SAVES TITLE BY CLOSE SHAVE

Cleveland, O., April 9.—Joe Lynch, world's bantamweight champion saved his title last night, but that was about all.

Young Montreal, the doughty scrapper from Providence R. I. outfought his opponent in seven of the ten rounds decisively. Lynch had a shade in two and the other was even. But for the fact that Young Montreal must score a knockout, there would be today a new wearer of the title in the 118 pound class.

The fight was one of the best seen in Cleveland for months.

XENIA GIRLS ARE NAMED IN CONTEST

Xenia has been again included in the search for beauty in the New Pyramid Beauty contest that is being conducted by the Dayton Daily News.

In Thursday's issue of the Dayton paper appeared the pictures of Miss Thelma Powell and Miss Eleanor McDaniel, both well-known members of the younger set in this city. Both of the girls are students at Miami University at Oxford, Ohio.

Saturday is the last day of the contest and the lucky winner of the contest will possess a check of $250.

Mrs. Josie Reed, 217 N. Exter St., Tulsa, Okla., writes: "I was in bed three days with my back. I took Foley Kidney Pills and in two days was at my work again. They help eliminate from the system the poisons that cause backache, rheumatic pains, stiff joints, sore muscles, swollen hands and feet, puffiness under the eyes. Sayre & Hemphill.

RICKARD TO NAME SITE FOR BIG BOUT SATURDAY, SAID

New York, April 9.—Tex Rickard will name the site of the Dempsey-Carpenter bout today.

After weeks of considering numerous offers from all sections of the United States, Canada and England, the premier promoter has definitely decided on the spot for the fistie battle of the age.

THE WISE PHYSICIAN.

I had a lot of pimples upon my princely mug, and I took yart and simples and bitters by the jug. My blood was out of order, my life was full of care, and I was near the border of bottomless despair. And many learned physicians prescribed their capsul gray; alas, alas, conditions grew punker every day. And then sought a healer who just had come to town, and many a boosting spier proclaimed his wide renown. No silly, trifling question was by this doctor sprung, concerning my digestion, my liver or my lung. He said, "You're always fussing with Jinks, who live next door; you two are roundly cussing each other, ever more. Unless you live serenely your ill I cannot cure; so long you've acted meanly it's made your blood impure. For giving way to passion gives rise to many ills, and you, in angry fashion, keep kicking o'er the thrills. Go home and quite expounding the riot act, Jinks, and health and peace abounding will soon remove you kinks." His counsel, wisely given, I took, and saved my life, for from my head were driven all thoughts of hate and strife; and now glad smiles and dimples are strung around my map, where once unseemly pimples were prone to overlap.

TAX BLANKS SENT OUT ON FRIDAY

Personal income tax return blanks were sent out from the office of County Auditor R. O. Wead, Friday, by Tax Deputy C. B. Mower.

Tax payers can make their returns any time from now on, with the assessor in their district, or at the courthouse. L. Steinfeld, Tax Assessor for Xenia City, will be at the office of the Auditor in the court house all the time starting Monday, where he will give assistance in filling out the blanks, and will swear in the taxpayers, free of charge.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Editor Gazette and Republican: I just want to say a few words in regard to "Fishing license bill No. 250. There is no use going fishing with a line and hook for there is nothing left to catch after the "Ohio Sportsmen" get through with their seines. PRESENTS MEMBERS WITH CARNATION

Each member of the cast of "Fa and Fancies," presented the second night at the opera house Friday night under the auspices of Catherin Greene Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, wore a carnation.

The carnations were the gift of Floyd Anderson, local florist, who attended the show Thursday. Liked the performance given, and showed appreciation by "saying it with flowers." He sent seven dozen carnations to the theater, and each member of the cast wore a flower in the Friday night performance.

Girls! Girls! Save Your Hair With Cuticura

ORDINANCE

To issue bonds of the City of Xenia in the sum of Five Thousand Dollars, in anticipation of the collection of special assessments for the extension of sewer districts 2, 3, 5, and 6.

Be it ordained by the city commission of the City of Xenia, Ohio, four fifths of the members concurring:

Section 1. Whereas, on the 22nd day of January 1920, the City Commission, by resolution No. 88, duly adopted on said date, declaring it necessary to extend sewer districts Nos. 2, of the total cost of said improvement and the cost of intersections as required by law, 3, 5 and 6, as provided for by general plans for sanitary sewers, adopted by the City of Xenia, Ohio, by ordinance passed June 27th, 1902, and to assess the whole cost of said improvement less the sum of Three Thousand Dollars, which said sum includes one-fifth on all lots and lands bounding and abutting on said improvement between and including the terminal thereof.

Whereas, on the 26th day of February, 1920, the said City Commission, by ordinance No. 100, duly passed by said date, determined to proceed with said improvement, and to assess the cost thereof as aforesaid; and

Whereas, the said City Commission, on the 26th day of February, 1920, by ordinance No. 102 duly passed on the said date, issued bonds in the sum of Twenty Thousand Dollars to pay that portion of the total cost of said improvement which was to be assessed on the lots and lands bounding and abutting on said improvement; and

Whereas, the final estimate as made by City Manager shows that it will require an additional sum of Five Thousand Dollars to the sum of Twenty Thousand Dollars already issued to pay that portion of the total cost of said improvement which is to be assessed on the lots and lands bounding and abutting on said improvement.

And whereas, the improvement is completed and final estimates made, and it is necessary that said bonds be issued immediately in order to meet the said final estimate and in order to carry on the daily operation of said municipality, it is necessary that this ordinance take effect as hereinafter set forth;

Now, therefore, in order to provide a fund for the aforesaid purposes, and in anticipation of the collection of said special assessments for said improvement it is deemed necessary and it is hereby determined by the City Commission of the City of Xenia, Ohio, to issue and sell bonds of the said City of Xenia, Ohio in the sum of Five Thousand Dollars.

Section 2. That the bonds of the City of Xenia, Ohio, be issued in the sum of Five Thousand Dollars for the purpose aforesaid. The same shall be issued in one bond of the denomination of Five Thousand Dollars and the same shall be No. 41. Said bonds shall bear the date as of April 1st, 1921 and shall mature ten years from date. Said bonds shall bear interest at the rate of six per cent per annum payable semi-annually, as evidenced by interest coupons to be attached thereto and shall be payable at the office of the Treasurer of the State of Ohio.

Section 3. Said bond shall express upon its face the purpose for which it is issued, and that it is issued in pursuance of this ordinance. It shall be prepared and delivered under the direction of the City Commission and the City Auditor and shall be signed by the Mayor and Auditor of the City respectively, and sealed with the corporate seal of said city. The interest coupons attached to said bond shall be executed by the City Auditor with his signature thereon, or he may have his signature printed or lithographed thereon.

Section 4. Said bonds shall be first offered at par and accrued interest to the Trustees of the Sinking Fund in their official capacity; and if the Sinking Fund Trustees refuse to take said bond at par and accrued interest, the said bond shall be offered at par and accrued interest to the Board of Commissioners of the Sinking Fund of the City School District; and then if said bond is not taken, it shall be offered at par and accrued interest to the Industrial Commission of Ohio; then if said bond is not taken, it shall be advertised for public sale and sold in the manner provided by law, but not for less than par and accrued value.

Section 5. The proceeds from the sale of said bond, except the premium and accrued interest thereon, shall be placed in the City Treasury to the credit of the "Sewer District Nos. 2, 3, 5 and 6 Extension Fund," and shall be disbursed upon proper vouchers for the improvement of said sewer districts, as heretofore set forth, and for no other purpose. The premium and accrued interest received from said sale, shall be transferred to the Trustees of the Sinking Fund to be applied by them in the manner provided by law.

Section 6. There shall be levied and collected annually during the period for which said bond has to run, by taxation on all taxable property on the tax duplicate of the City of Xenia, Ohio, an amount sufficient to pay the interest thereon as herein provided, and to provide a sinking fund for the payment of said bond at maturity, provided that the amount of such annual levy shall be such as to provide for and make up any deficiency in the revenues of the said City of Xenia, Ohio, available for the payment of such interest, and the creation of such sinking fund, from the collection of said special assessments as hereinafter levied in lieu thereof or otherwise; and the proper taxing authorities shall compute the amount of such general tax certified and collected.

Section 7. On account of the emergency set forth in the preamble thereof, this ordinance shall take effect and be in force immediately.

Passed this 6th day of April, 1921.

J. Thorb Charters,
President City Commission
Attest: T. H. Zell,
Clerk City Commission.

BEWARE OF NERVES!

A great many of the troubles my readers have are due only to their nervous system. It is amazing the unexpected results that nervousness will have on one's health and looks. Some cases of baldness are due to nervousness. A great deal of dandruff is due to a neurotic condition. It is indirectly the reason for falling hair. It is a cause of some varieties of eczema. It is sometimes the reason for a coarse-grained skin, because it makes the complexion very dry and coarse pores are apt to result from this.

It is very frequently the cause of excessive perspiration. It fact it is responsible for so many things of this sort that I have not space here to tell them all. We all know what nervous depression is! We know that curious, unexplainable feeling, that makes us want to get away from the thing we are doing, yet seems to deprive us of sufficient energy to change.

Nervousness is the cause of all sorts of foot troubles. Sometimes even of a queer little spot that comes on the bottom of the foot that makes walking painful and that develops into something very much like a corn. Yet who would think that being nervous would make the feet hurt!

You must remember that the nervous system is all through your body, and that when it is acting badly, you can be poisoned just as surely as though you ate bad food. I do not want any of my readers to "nurse their nerves," as some doctors put it, because nerves are best forgotten when they can be forgotten.

But if you have anything wrong with your nervous system, you will suffer from it and the wisest thing for you to do is to recognize that

TEST ALL SEED CORN AGRONOMISTS ADVISE

Despite the mild winter and good condition of corn last fall, it will pay to test all corn used for seed, according to the department of agronomy, Ohio Experiment Station.

Outward appearances are not reliable guides in judging the value of the ear of corn for seed, it is stated and the only accurate means of determining the viability of seed corn is by germination.

Weather conditions often affect the viability of corn in various ways. Seed corn taken from the crib in the spring is often low in viability and many times is disappointing when planted without testing.

A few kernels taken from each ear put in the "ragdoll" tester will give definite proof if corn selected for seed is suitable for planting.

A piece of white cloth marked off in squares and numbered to correspond with numbers given ears of corn is quite efficient in testing.

Five kernels from each ear are placed in the squares and the cloth is rolled together and soaked in water for a few hours and then kept moist at room temperature for about five days. Ears which show a low percentage of germination should be discarded.

WHAT MAY KILLED IF CLOVER KILLED

If young clover has been killed during the winter, a hay crop of oats and timothy will be a good advantage, according to W. E. Hanger, crops specialist at the Ohio State University. They are sown in the same manner as oats alone, using, however, a mixture of one and one half bushels of oats and one bushel of peas per acre. This makes a very rapid growth and usually can be depended upon to make from one and one half to two and one half of good hay per acre.

Mothers' Day Club—A Brunswick Idea

We've organized a secret society amongst sons and daughters—a conspiracy of happiness. And we call it Mothers' Day Club. We mustn't tell about it in detail, for that would be giving the secret away.

But we invite you to come in and find out how easy it is to join in this unusual way of honoring your Mother on May 8th. You'll be delighted with the details.

Model 112

Part of the plan centers around one of the beautiful Brunswick Phonographs, Model 112. And there is a special collection of Records, suitable for the occasion—and—but we nearly gave the secret away.

Come in and let us explain it personally. And since the time is short, we suggest coming in as once.

SPRING DRIVE FOR ELUSIVE MUSHROOM SOON TO BEGIN

Hunting without gun or dog will soon be in order in Greene county.

"Already a few reports have come in of the bagging of some early 'game.' But the real hunting will not begin for a week or two, according to old time hunters of the sponge mushroom.

Every spring a large number of Xenians who have a taste for the edible forms of fungi, make trips into the woods for their favorite mushrooms. Although some persons are afraid of the deadly "toadstool," there are few who cannot recognize the sponge mushroom after having seen it once.

Remembering very much a sponge in form, the "mushroom," as it is called, is familiar to most farmers and persons who go into the country much.

It has a stem from one to three inches in height and the sponge-like top has a decidedly honey-combed appearance. The color is usually pale to buff and cannot be mistaken even by the novice. Although there are several different varieties of the sponge mushroom, they are all pretty much alike in appearance. From their dead leaf color it is often hard to distinguish them from the background of leaves.

BUSINESS BETTER AT WAGON WORKS

Tuesday the Troy Wagon Works shipped a car load of trailers to Miami, Florida, making the second shipment of the kind within the last ten days.

An officer of the company stated that there was an increasing demand for their products all through the South.

TELEPHONE SERVICE OUT AS RESULT OF TROLLEY ACCIDENT

Tippecanoe City is practically without telephone service as the result of the burning out of the entire system when a trolley slipped from the Dayton & Troy traction wire on Fifth street near Main, the pole striking the telephone wires which cross the traction wires there.

Every cable box in the city instantly was aflame.

The fire department was summoned and visited each cable box in an effort to extinguish the blaze.

The switchboard of the Tippecanoe Telephone company was entirely put out of commission. Six hundred telephones are dead.

It is impossible to estimate the loss, but it will amount to thousands of dollars.

LOCAL AUTO CLUB TO SEND DELEGATES TO STATE MEETING

At least four and possibly five delegates from the Greene County Automobile Club will go to the annual convention of the Ohio State Automobile Association, to be held at the Hotel Sinton in Cincinnati, Friday and Saturday, April 22 and 23.

The basis of representation at the convention will be one delegate for each fifty members of the club and for any fraction of fifty. On this basis, the local club is entitled to four delegates and if the membership increases, proportionately, it will be able to send five delegates to the meeting.

With a similar representation from other clubs in the state it is expected that there will be an attendance of 700 or over. Dr. A. C. Messenger, president and F. J. Slackford, secretary, of the Greene County Club will be among the delegates and the others will be selected next week. It is thought, when a business meeting of the Club will be held.

Most of the speakers for the convention have been secured some of them being Lieutenant Governor Clarence J. Brown, Secretary of State Harvey C. Smith, State Highway Commissioner L. C. Herick, State Treasurer Rudolph W. Archer, Davis Jamison, New Castle, Pa., president of the American Automobile Association; A. G. QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel. Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid liver.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action. If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bed-time.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. 15c and 30c.

The Revolt of Vera Sanderson

By JANE PHELPS.

SALLIE IS AWED BY HER RECEPTION. CHAPTER 11

"Margaret, this is my sister, Sallie.

Sallie, Mrs. Dalton, Keith's sister.

"How do you do, Miss Clark. I trust you had a pleasant journey," Margaret said in her most stand-offish way, extending just the tips of her fingers. I should have warned Sallie, but we had taken so fast all the way from the station that I had forgotten to tell her what to expect from my frigid sister-in-law.

"I saw that Sallie had been about to kiss Margaret, and it was so funny to see her shrink back, and the look on her face was so comical that I laughed, although they both looked surprised. Fortunately just then Irene and Gloria heard us and came running out.

"This is Sallie—Aunt Sallie, if your mother is willing," I said.

They both curtsied prettily, and said they would like to call my sister aunt.

"I think it a good suggestion, Vera,"

Margaret looked at me frowning, still wondering, I knew, at what had amused me. "You may call Miss

Clark Aunt Sallie," children," she finished, then swept from the hall, where we had been standing, into her room and closed the door. Sallie and I went up to my apartment, after I had told the clamoring children I had might come up in an hour, after

"Aunt Sallie" had bathed and dressed.

"Nice pleasant woman, isn't she?"

Sallie said when we were alone.

"Who?" I asked, pretending.

"I trust you had a pleasant journey," she mimicked Margaret's tone perfectly, the tips of her fingers extended toward me.

"I thought you were going to kiss her, Sallie," I said laughing at her comical expression and her action.

"So that was what you were laughing at! Well, I was! But it is a good thing I didn't! My lips would have been frozen solid. My goodness, kid how do you stand it?"

"Wait and see," I wondered what Sallie would think when she saw how things really were, how little I had to say in my husband's home. To tell the truth, I rather dreaded to have her know. I was not nearly as eager to confide in her as I had been before she came.

Keith was lovely when he came in.

The little girls were both with us, and Sallie had been telling them a story.

"We love Aunt Sallie," Gloria said shyly, when Keith asked them what they meant by bothering a guest.

"And I love them, Keith."

"They are rather nice kids—at times," he teased.

"How nice Keith is!" Sallie whispered when he left us to "doll up" as he called it, for dinner. "I think you are very fortunate, the baby of the family, to get so nice a husband."

"So do I! Keith is a love." But as I said it I sighed. I couldn't help remembering that he was also rather difficult at times.

At dinner everything went smoothly. I tried to be as tactful as possible and although Margaret made one or two remarks that caused Sallie to look queerly I paid no attention. After dinner Keith said:

"What shall we do Sallie? Or are you too tired with your journey to want to do anything?"

"I am not tired at all, Keith. I shall be delighted to do anything you suggest."

"I might be able to get tickets,"

"I think you have forgotten, Broth-
